

We know where we're going – why not come along?

Anderton Gables are looking for bright, interesting, articulate and commercially minded Building Surveyors, Quantity Surveyors and Project Managers to join our rapidly expanding practice.

We are a leading building consultancy in the North of England, a position strengthened by every project we undertake.

Recruiting and developing the best Graduates is fundamental to our growth plans and we have much to offer;

- Our Graduates enrol onto our APC programme as soon as they join us and start working towards chartership – rotating around our service streams to ensure they get the breadth and depth of experience required to pass the APC.
- Our Graduates are overseen by an allocated APC Supervisor and we have current RICS APC Assessors in our teams so you will be fully prepared – we even offer Mock APC interviews to other practices candidates. No wonder our APC pass rate is outstanding!
- A great working environment, interesting clients across the UK, a competitive remuneration package and a great culture to grow in. Our culture is all about communication, teamwork, having fun and a positive approach.

You will need sound communication and relationship building skills; be motivated; have attention to detail and be a down to earth team player with a can-do attitude.

If this sounds like you and you're interested in developing yourself whilst receiving a great remuneration package, then please send your CV and a covering letter stating why you think you'd be the right fit for us to info@andertongables.co.uk.
